

LONG YEARS AGO

May 11, 1904

Const. Peters of Olds was in town Saturday, looking up a cattle killing.

The station grounds in Didsbury were beautified last week by the planting of trees.

The statement of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the ten months ending with April has been issued and shows revenue to be $56,728,716. The expenditures for the same period were $55,802,813.

The influx of settlers east of Didsbury this spring eclipses all previous years. No less than a dozen new houses can be sighted.

MANY NEW HOUSES TO BE ERECTED IN DIDSBURY THIS YEAR

Didsbury is experiencing a building boom at the present time, and despite shortages of various kinds of building material about a dozen houses are to be started immediately. In fact, last week, basements were being dug for dwellings for the following local people on the property mentioned below.

E. S. Shantz, east of Ed Jans' residence.
R. Barrett, east of where Bill Ranton lives.

Tom Morris, west of his present home.

Ward Sherrick, Earl Cummins, Mary Evenden and J. Priesen, all on the street west of the Rosebud Health Clinic.

J. R. Cunningham, on the corner, west of the Gus Blittner residence.

W. Ammar, next to Miss Ferguson's house.

Rev. A. Traub, east of the Geo. Law residence.

40 HOURS A WEEK?

That's what some of our Trade Unions are advocating, but how can the merry man in business cut down to this and still carry on? Not the editor of The Pioneer, who figures he has been working an average of 65 hours a week, for the past year. However, we hope this will change to some extent, for on May 1st we have started in a new printer, Mr. Wilfred Skerry, who has just been discharged from the Army after four years overseas. Col. Skerry is a married man whose wife is still in England, and he is also the proud father of a new baby daughter born on April 29.

We hope the people of Didsbury will extend a warm welcome to Mr. Skerry, and to his family when they arrive from overseas.

NEW DOMESTIC RATE FOR POWER SOON

The Council of the Town of Didsbury met in regular session on Monday night, when final reading was given to the Electric Service By-Law. The new rates for domestic use should be in effect after the next meter reading.

The secretary was instructed to write to Hadden and Miles, consulting engineers, Calgary, asking if they would undertake supervision of the installation of water and sewage in Didsbury. Should they accept the task, it is hoped that work will be started immediately on the water and sewage scheme.

Several applications were received by the council for the purchase of lots for building purposes, both for dwelling and business places.

Owing to scarcity of building lots, due to the building boom in town, council has decided to have Block M east of the Bible School surveyed into lots. The road to the museum grounds will also be surveyed.

The town office will be re-decorated and as soon as this work is completed the Library will be installed in the building.

RUGBY W.I. MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. HOGG

With an attendance of 17, the Rugby W.I. met this month at the home of Mrs. A. L. Hogg. The W.I. decided to make a donation to the Cancer Fund. It was also decided to gather up another refugee outfit for a small child, with each member giving a garment for it. A parcel of food will also be sent over shortly from the W.I. A most interesting article was read by Mrs. McNaughton on the effect different colors have on health, particularly those suffering from heart ailments. A contest, "Know Alberta," was won by Mrs. H. H. Hogg, and the day's program was concluded with the singing of the National Anthem. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Courtz.

Don't forget to put your entry in to the secretary of the Didsbury Lions Club, H. Lynch-Stanton, if you want to appear on the amateur night program.

FISH AND GAME ASS'N MEETING MAY 13

The next regular meeting of the Didsbury Fish and Game Association will be held in the Lions Club on Monday evening, May 13, at 8:30 p.m.

It is expected that the editor of Game Trails Magazine, published in Vancouver, will be present to speak to the members on matters of interest to the Association. Several matters of an important nature are to be discussed and a full turnout of members is required.

Lunch will be served 25¢ per plate.

DIDSBURY LIONS CLUB SPONSORS AMATEUR NIGHT ON MAY 17

Preparations are now being made by the Didsbury Lions Club for an Amateur Night to be held in the Didsbury Opera theatre on Friday, May 17th, and entries are now being received by the secretary, H. Lynch-Stanton.

Prospective entrants are reminded that all entries must be in the hands of the secretary not later than Friday, May 10th, so that the program can be lined up and printed before the date of the entertainment.

Good cash prizes will be given to the winners.

Following the program, which is expected to be over by 10:30 p.m., the Students' Union of the Didsbury High School will sponsor a dance, with music being furnished by the Innisfail Red Aces orchestra.

Tickets are now being sold for either program or dance, and as the seating capacity of the theatre is limited you are urged to procure your tickets immediately.

CALF CLUB MEETING AT THE E. CLARKE FARM

The regular meeting of the Didsbury Calf Club was held at the farm of Mr. E. Clarke, with 18 members and 16 visitors in attendance.

A class of mature Holstein cows and a class of heifers were judged. Mr. H. McPhail placed the first class and reasons were given for placing the second class by Pat Gibbs and Josephine Worrall. Mr. E. Clarke then gave the correct placings.

After judging, the meeting was held in the house, with James Clarke taking the president's place, as John Parker was unable to be there.

The two topics given at the previous meeting, "Scours" and "Elat" were given by Claude Webb and James Clarke. New topics were given to Pat Gibbs, Alice Bruce and Walter Scheide.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at the C. Gibbs farm on June 1st.

Two new members, Gwen Clarke and Jake Mooney, were welcomed to the Club.

A motion by Gwen Clarke that the next meeting be adjourned, was seconded by Pat Gibbs and carried.

The hostess, Mrs. E. Clarke then served a very delicious lunch. This was followed by a very interesting musical number by Mr. Clarke on the piano and James Clarke on the trumpet.

The members departed after giving a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Clarke.

C. STIMPFE ADDRESSES RUGBY A.F.U. GATHERING

A record crowd of over 220 people attended a meeting at Rugby Hall last Wednesday night to hear an address by Mr. C.S. Stimpfe, president of the C.U.A.F.U. Acting as chairman, our local A.F.U. president, Albert Krebs, introduced the speaker, who gave an excellent address outlining the work of the Union in the past and its aims in the future. He stressed the need of organization among the farmers and promised that the Union would direct organization drive immediately after seeding in order to acquaint the farmers with the strike action programme promised by the Union. "Farmers unite," said Mr. Stimpfe, "is apparently the only thing that the King Government will recognize." The meeting then adjourned following a question period.

The next meeting of the Rugby Union Local will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Thompson on May 22. Everyone is welcome.

A by-law was passed voting a grant of $50 each to the cemetery boards at Crossfield, Carstairs and Didsbury, and $75 to the Olds cemetery board.

An offer of $200 was made towards the placing of gravel from Elkton store north three-quarters of a mile to the Evangelical camp grounds.

A number of requests were made to place gravel on a one-third basis and Council approved the following requests for gravel, subject to the consent of the Department of Public Works:

East of Sections 30 and 31 in 33-3-5.

North of section 24 in 30-4-5, and

North of sections 19, 20 and 21, in 32-3-5.

South of the north half of 9-34-5.

West of sections 1, 12, 13, 24, 25 and 36, in 33-27-4.

The necessary by-law was passed to purchase a new blade grader.

The following poundkeepers were appointed: Mr. J. H. W. N.E. of 34-22-5, and Mr. George Work, N.W. of 7-30-28-4.

A resolution passed by the A.F.U. Local 708, of Marmaton, was submitted to Council, requesting that the Provincial Government, municipality and farmers undertake on a one-third basis the spraying of noxious weeds with chemicals. As no permission is made in the Act for such an undertaking, Council decided to take the matter up with the provincial government.

Accounts and pay sheets were passed and the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting of the Council will be held on June 4th.

OLDSTERS TO DO THEIR STUFF

The Junior Baseball Season in Didsbury will open with a bang (or home run) on Thursday evening at 6:30 p.m., when J. V. Berscht, honorary president of the team hopes to revert to form when he steps up to bat against the venerable pitcher, Art Reiber, president of the Didsbury Lions Club, who will toss the first ball to mark the opening game. If J. V. can make a comeback on his first swing there will be no need for Mayor C. E. Reiber to put on a catcher's mitt before the bases—but if the old war horse "fans" the Mayor will need plenty of padding if he hopes to again push a pencil.

Many Returned Servicemen Could Qualify As Male Nurses

There is a shortage of nurses almost everywhere now and there might possibly be a suggestion considered carefully for the use of male nurses. Some returned servicemen must have served as orderlies overseas and have some qualifications to start nursing service. There are also first aid experts among the war veterans, possibly they could start a project for male nurses. Many men would prefer male nurses and there are other cases where they would be desirable. At present there are six hundred registered male nurses in Great Britain and they have a society which hopes to raise the number to 60,000. The British promoters of the plan say male nurses are much needed and never need to get of jobs over there. Men who have learned preliminaries in the war services are offered a three-year training course to qualify them for civilian tasks. It is proposed that eventually hospitals in Britain will have half the staff male nurses and half female. Bradford Sun.

That old housing-shortage gag—“why don't you move into a telephone booth?” came true in New York. A 4-inch midget was discovered enjoying light housekeeping in a booth in a lobby of a Broadway motion-picture theatre.

The midget said her name was Miss Helen Magna. Since she found there wasn't even room enough for a midget in New York, Miss Magna said, she moved into the booth with an alarm clock, a tiny stove, a half of bread, bottle of milk and a can of salmon.

It might have been a press agency gag, but anyway she was forced to move again.

TODD'S TRAGIC TIE

By EULALIE WEEKS
Copyright
Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

JUST as I was glancing at the glaring headline, “MR. TODD WILL DONATE $5000,” in our small town evening newspaper, the phone rang.

Jennie was practically shrieking, “Did you hear about old Todd?”

“I just read the headline,”

“Not THAT! He was murdered!”

“MURDERED?”

“Yes—yes. Both Kay and Tom have been arrested!”

“But it's not an hour since Kay left here!”

“I KNOW. She went right home and she and Tom killed the old man!”

“I don't believe it!”

“I don't know,” I rely on Jennie to think the worst! You know how queer Kay behaved this afternoon?”

“Yes,” I said, “that's after no sense!”

Kay was nervous but she could have had a dozen reasons besides plans to kill her father-in-law. I won't believe either she or Tom had a thing to do with it! What happened?”

Mattie said both Mr. Tom and Kay came in shortly after Mr. Todd. At 6, Mattie went to tell the old boy that dinner was ready and found him strangled. No one else was in the house. Kay and Tom acted shocked when the police arrived there. Old Todd had about $500 cash, that's missing, too.”

Jennie called the police.

“Who, certainly, capitalized on being the wife of the city clerk what a news monger!”

Mattie. She told the police that Mr. Tom and the young Mrs. Todd say a word to each other. I tell you... smell something burning. I'll talk to you later. I didn't want to hear any of Jennie's personal opinions. I dashed to the police station to station. There was a terrible unexpected crime had had a terrific effect on our local constabulary. The Chief was bustling with authority.

“We were just going to interview you, Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. Todd played bridge at your house this afternoon? Did she act different in any way?”

“I don't think so.”

“Another witness says she seemed very nervous.”

“That might be the other witness' opinion,” I snarped.

“But you must be prejudiced in favor of the prisoner.”

“Perhaps I know her better than anyone else. She's my best friend and she wouldn't commit murder for $50,000 or $100?”

“For some other reason though?”

I didn't answer. I was thinking Kay would have been justified for dumping off old Todd any day during the past seven years. He treated his son and daughter-in-law like domestics. People wondered why they stayed with him but I, knowing the details concerning their lives, realized it was virtually impossible for them to leave. Today Todd had announced that he intended to give away half his fortune to establish a “Hospital for Cats” for years his hatred of animals had been general knowledge! Insane? Doctors said not.

“What time did Mrs. Todd leave your home?”

“About 5:15.”

“Unusual, she and Mr. Todd got home about the same time... 5:30. Mr. Todd was murdered between then and 6...”

“How do you know it was murdered? He may have committed suicide.”

“Strangled himself with his own necktie from behind? Either Mr. or Mrs. Todd, and perhaps both, are guilty of murder.”

“Did I see red?”

“What about an outsider?”

“All doors and windows were locked inside.”

“Mattie?”

“The maid had no notice.”

Kay didn't rush into my arms or burst into tears, she just sat.

“I know you didn't kill of Mister Todd, Kay. I want you to help me prove it.”

No answer. I talked a lot.

“Are you afraid Tom did this?”

No. Kay looked at me and the tears in her eyes were answer enough. I didn't waste time. Williams believed in the law, right in the latter. He said to me, “I say I drove your car. Tom was all keyed-up.”

“You've seen Kay?”

“Yes. Don't worry about Kay, Tom.” My advice was ineffectual.

“Tom, did you get home before or after Kay?”

Silence.

“Tom, I'm trying to help. You must co-operate.”

“I thought I heard Kay come in after me.”

“But...”

“Skip it, Katie.”

“But?”

“I met Jake in the gangway—he said I'd better hurry—the Mrs. was looking for me.”

“Jake? The furnace-man?”

“Yeah.”

I hiked back to Ray's cell.

“Ray, when did you last see Jake?”

“Jake? Are you crazy? I haven't seen Jake for days.”

Outside Tom's cell I called Williams aside.

“Is the inquest in the morning?”

“Yes.”

It took all my ingenuity and mighty fast sales talk plus much repetition of the word “pardon!” but finally Williams agreed to meet me when he got off duty. For over an hour my eyes were glued to Jake's sleepable-looking front door—more the pity! There was no response to Williams' knock. The back door yielded to one good push but inside Jake's smelly kitchen we realized the house was empty. Williams drove my car to the depot. There wasn't a soul in the waiting room but by the dim light from the freight shed we discerned a figure in the shadow of the building, which was familiar to me. I hesitated.

“Give him the word!”

“But if your hunch is wrong?”

“I'll sign a confession myself!”

Williams grabbed Jake's arm and in an authoritative voice, issued, “Jake Smith, I arrest you for the murder of one Mr. Thomas Todd and for the theft of approximately $400.”

Old Jake looked almost relieved. Williams definitely looked relieved as we listened to Jake's abusive flow of language.

“That old blankety-blank so-and-so deserved what he got...”

I drove to the police station and, for the first time in his life, Williams relented regarding the letter of the law.

Step on it, Mrs. Taylor, the sky's the limit!”

Now Necessaries

Many Things Demanded Today Were Once Considered Luxuries

People who come across old grocery bills or old coal bills or old tax bills are amazed at the advances in price which have taken place. They can hardly believe their eyes. Yet the cost of living is not as high as it was immediately following the First World War. People at that time were paying double pre-war prices.

Increase in wages in industry, however, following the Second World War, is keeping pace with the increase in the price of necessities. As a result many things are considered necessities today which were formerly regarded as luxuries.

It is interesting to note that in 1911 the minimum wage of rivet laborers was 25 cents an hour. Today rivet themselves pay 60 cents an hour.

So Harold STOPPED tea and coffee, and changed to POSTUM...

And right away he only got a few hundred sheep over the fence before sleep overcame him...

And in a few nights only a dozen...

And then there were none!

Many people can safely drink tea and coffee, but others are upset by the caffeine these beverages contain. If you find yourself sleepless, nervous, irritable—try changing to Postum. You'll like its rich, heart-warming flavor. Not like tea, not like coffee, just a grand flavor all its own.

Easy to fix—make Postum right in the cup just by adding boiling water or hot milk. Costs less than it's serving.

She: “What is that big thing?”

He: “That's a locomotive boiler.”

She: “Why do they call locomotives?”

He: “To make the engine tender.”

Johnny: “I wish I was Tommy Jones.”

Mother: “Why? You are stronger than he is; you have a much better home, more toys and more pocket money.”

Johnny: “Yes, I know, but he can wiggle his ears.”

“How is your garden getting along old man?”

“Well, if the green things are vegetables, it's fine, but if they're weeds, it's terrible.”

Hardy: “I learned if I understand banking.”

Cashdown: “How so?”

Hardy: “They'll lend you all the money you want as long as you can prove you don't need it.”

A schoolmistress asked a child what “deceit” signified.

The child hesitated.

“What do I do when I look at you?” said the mistress.

“Tiquint,” replied the scholar.

She was describing her favorite brother.

His grass never grows under his feet.

He: “A go-getter, huh?”

She: “No; a saller.”

Sutter: “I have come to ask for the hand of your daughter.”

Father: “Which one, Jane or Helen?”

Sutter: “Jane, sir.”

Father: “Do you make enough to support two?”

Sutter: “No, sir. One will be enough.”

“Why?” she asked.

Question: “Did you can guns kick when they have no legs?”

asked Bertie.

“Don't ask absurd questions,” said his father.

“Guns haven't any legs, have they Dad?”

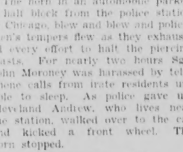

“Certainly not.”

“Well then, what's the use of their having breeches?”

The horn in an automobile parked in Chicago, blew and blew and policemen's tempers flew as they exhausted every effort to halt the piercing blare. For nearly two hours Sgt. The horn stopped.

Made In 1780 Used In Ontario Legislative Ceremonies

A soft-wood mace, built in 1780 and used at the opening of the first legislative assembly in Upper Canada, 12 years later, was placed in the Ontario Legislative Chamber for final ceremonies leading to prorogation of the current session.

Premier Drew told the house “this historic relic” was taken by United States forces during the war of 1812 and returned to Ontario only a few years ago at the suggestion of the late Franklin Roosevelt.

The Premier said the 46 foot mace, of primitive construction, will be placed in an “appropriate glass case” within the parliament buildings as a reminder of Ontario's growth since the first assembly in 1792 at Newark, now Niagara-on-the-Lake.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME APPARENTLY NOT POPULAR IN THE WEST

Daylight saving time has been inaugurated in Eastern Canada and some of the larger centres in the west have decided to follow their example. However, Alberta cities do not seem to favor the move and for the present standard time is still in effect here.

City residents for the most part seem to favor daylight saving time because it gives them an hour more daylight in the evening when they can get out of doors and indulge in their favorite sport or hobby. Farmers, however, find that daylight saving time is a disadvantage. Not so much as far as their work is concerned, because they generally work from dawn to dusk anyway. But when they have to come to town to attend to business, or go to the show etc., they find that they are usually an hour behind because the cows are not trained to the new time.

Daylight saving time has many advantages, and would be a fine thing for the country if it were Dominion-wide, as was the case during the war years. However, under the present set-up of each community setting its own time zone, it immediately becomes a handicap and is very confusing.

The Dominion Government ought to pass a law, either favoring daylight time during the summer months, or prohibiting any change from the standard time, and then see that the law is strictly adhered to.

SHOW LIGHTS NEEDED ON CYCLES AT NIGHT

Warning of the dangers of cycling at night without proper lights or reflectors being displayed on the machine, has been given by the police authorities.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association point out that a number of fatalities occurred in the province last year when youths riding bicycles without lights were struck by car drivers.

In the interest of safety, make certain that the cycle has proper lights. Lives will be saved and serious physical injury avoided by following the principles of safety.

Motorists for the most part exercise care to avoid accidents. But there are times when the cyclist without lights is courting disaster, as he does not give the car driver an opportunity of avoiding a collision.

Judging by the complaints already aired in some communities, there is need of a police check-up to see that provincial and municipal regulations are duly observed and that violations are checked forthwith if serious accidents are to be reduced in number this year.

POISON GOPHERS EARLY

Gopher poison should be used now for the best results. If left for a few weeks, increases in the gopher population will require a much larger expenditure of time and labor to produce the same results. Whether a prepared poison or home made formula is preferred it should be used early. Gophers take poison grain much more readily now than when the crop begins to grow, and both time and material are saved by starting control operations immediately.

NOTES FROM THE EAST

The Jutland School pupils should be in real good condition after an extra week of holidays. Mrs. Krause returned and school opened on Monday morning.

Mrs. Dowell, Roy and Evelyn and Miss Steeves were visitors to Oids on Saturday.

George Will was a Sunday supper guest with Roy Dowell and the girls.

The Jutland boys had a practise game of softball on Sunday at the Keen farm. The Jutland boys are in with the Poular Creek team.

Fred Metz has been in the Didsbury hospital with the flu and expects to be home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Shells and family and also Mr. and Mrs. Earl Woods, were Calgary visitors Wednesday.

The Jutland district is well under way with their seeding operations, but very few gardens are in as yet. We had a light shower early Monday morning.

WESTCOTT NEWS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goetjen and family were present on Sunday last at the family gathering of Mr. and Mrs. H. Papke, of Elkton, who have just returned from Ontario after being away for several months.

We are glad to see Leonard Luft back at school after being absent for some time with a broken bone in his foot.

With the nice warm weather of last week, a few of the school children tried out the water in the Dog Pound, and from the laughter and shouting we heard, we'd say the water was swell.

Mr. Hubert Papke spent a couple of days in Calgary last week.

It is with a heavy heart that we pass by the spot where once the United Church stood at Westcott which was destroyed by fire. It was really a landmark in the community, having been built there about 45 years ago. We are especially indebted to Mrs. Swanby who turned in the alarm so promptly. Although help was a little late in getting there to save the building with spring seeding operations in full swing, the bigger boys from school nearby and Mr. Swanby, did much to keep it under control. Fear was held for a time for the safety of the surrounding buildings as not much wind is needed these days to fan a blaze with everything being so dry.

However, the blaze was soon under control. We say thank you to everyone for responding to the call as it could have been quite disastrous.

OVERCROWDING CHICKS

Overcrowding chicks is the most common and most costly error in the poultry business. Overcrowding wastes feed, stunts growth, causes not only direct loss but indirect loss through weakened stock. Young chicks soon outgrow their original brooder houses and trouble occurs if room for expansion is not provided. Each colony house should be supplemented with at least two range shelters to ensure adequate growth.

Some breeders and hatcherymen arrange to supply knock-down range shelters to baby chick customers at nominal cost. Other poultry service organizations, suggests the authorities, might usefully arrange to enter this field as well. Some woodwork is firm in every poultry community could be approached to offer a line of knock-down range shelters.

FEED PURCHASE PERMITS

Except under exceptional circumstances, on or after May 3, 1946, no feed purchase permits will be issued authorizing the purchase of oats or barley for the balance of the present crop year, that is up to and including July 31, 1946.

Producers of feed who are not holders of either a producer's permit or a feed purchase permit and who will require a permit to purchase oats or barley to be used as feed or seed for the balance of the crop year 1945-46 must, therefore, apply for such permits immediately.

SHORTHORN SIRE GOES NORTH

He's no sitting bull—well, not any longer. He became so tired of sitting around and hearing about others of his kind travelling all the way from Scotland that he decided to do a little wandering himself. His motto, however, is "See Alberta First."

With the assistance of the Live Stock Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture he boarded the train at Edmonton, with passage paid, on the first stretch of the long journey to Keg River. By the time he arrived he'd done everything but flown. By foot, truck, train and river boat he took seven days to arrive at his destination, but the welcome he received at the end more than compensated for the hazards of the journey.

Well brought up too was this young bovine. Born just seventeen months ago on the farm of Robert Hepworth, Laughed, he goes by the high sounding name of Balmuchy Red Lake. Like the pioneers of old he has broken trail, and with the help of the good grade cows of his new owners, The Metis Colony, Keg River, Alberta, he is looking forward to impressing his sterling qualities on his prospective sons and daughters.

TOMATO HOME STORAGE

In the storage of tomatoes in the home, pine cones keep well in the refrigerator but green tomatoes do not ripen well there. They should be laid out without touching each other in a dark, cool place, and transferred to the refrigerator or other cold place when they turn red. Another method is to pull up the vines with the tomatoes on them and hang them in a basement or a warm garage to allow the fruit to ripen. If, however, the fruit drop from the suspended vines they risk being bruised. Tomatoes may be wrapped in paper and stored in a box. A tomato ripened on the vines has better flavor than one which has been picked green.

An anguished female voice shrieked over the telephone. "Two young men are trying the window."

"Sorry, lady," was the reply. "You've made a mistake. This isn't police headquarters. It's the fire department."

"I know that," said the voice impatiently. "It's the fire department I'm after. The young men need a bigger ladder."

GROW VEGETABLES TO HELP EUROPE

(By H. G. L. Strange)

There seems to be some controversy about how much food people in Europe really need, and about how many are now suffering severely from the lack of food, but Mr. Hoover, former President of the United States, in charge of food relief in Europe and Asia, has just announced that the present mortality among children under two years of age is already 250 in every thousand, and the mortality is expected to increase. My own belief is that we shall be asked most urgently to conserve more food during the next few months.

We can all of us help by growing larger vegetable gardens than usual, for by consuming more vegetables we can release more precious wheats and meats for shipment overseas to hungry people.

City people are already planning to put in larger vegetable gardens than usual. Farmers, of course, can do this with much less effort.

When I was farming I used to grow my vegetables in long abouts rows on summerfallow, spacing the rows far enough apart to take a harrow or a cultivator. Then I used to drive an implement between the rows now and again while going to the fields to work. This reduces the work of hand hoeing, at least between the rows.

NO INCREASE IN BUTTER UNTIL MAY

Because of the low supply of butter the Prices Board states that the ration of four ounces per person per week will be maintained until May 15. From May 15 until June 6 the ration will be five and one third ounces per week, and on June 6 the ration will be restored to six ounces per week.

This means that one coupon good for half a pound of butter will become valid on each of the following dates: May 2, May 16, May 23.

WHALE HUNTING BY AIR

Aircraft will play an important part in the British whaling expedition due to leave for the Antarctic next autumn. John Grierson, Flight Superintendent of British United Whalers - the company organizing the expedition - told the Daily Sketch that planes will be catapulted from a base ship, will carry out reconnaissance work and assist the chasers in every possible way. Walrus aircraft will be used. These are biplanes which with their dual purpose land and water undercarriage will be able to land on the sea.

By D. F. J. GIBNEY, Director, Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

A Welcome to War Veterans

This department, on behalf of the Line Elevator Companies sponsoring its work, welcomes to the great agricultural community of Western Canada, the hundreds of ex-servicemen who have already been established on farms in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta under The Veterans' Land Act. We also welcome home these members of the armed forces who have recently returned to their own farms in the Prairie Provinces. We wish you good luck and complete success in all your agricultural undertakings. Farming is more than a business - it is a way of life. Centuries ago, the great Roman statesman and scholar, described the vocation of agriculture in these words: "In all occupations from which gain is secured, there is none better than agriculture, nothing sweeter, nothing more worthy of a free man." No wonder so many of Canada's war veterans - the men who sacrificed so much for the cause of freedom have chosen, or are choosing, farming as their post-war occupation.

After World War I the writer served as a Field Supervisor with the Soldier Settlement Board, and helped to establish many returned men on farms in the Old-Western district of Alberta. He has, therefore, an appreciation of the agricultural problems that confront newly-established war veterans, and could welcome enquiries at any time.

The main lines of work of this department are: (1) Consulting service, (2) Seed Laboratory service, and (3) Publications. All war veterans are welcome to these services without charge. They have only to apply to local Line Elevators or write to Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg or Calgary.

National campaigns against chronic rheumatic diseases have been under way for some time in Great Britain and in the United States.

The first known fund in Canada for the purpose of a campaign against arthritis has been formed by the patients in the Banff Mineral Springs Hospital.

These public spirited Canadians many of them sufferers from arthritis, have started this fund as a nucleus of the Canadian effort to stem the ravages of this crippling disease.

Up to date the sum of $93 has been donated by the patients voluntarily and this money has been deposited in the Imperial Bank of Canada, Banff, in trust.

Literature in the campaign against arthritis has been emanating from Banff, Alberta, for the past six years and from Nanaimo, B. C., for the past two years financed voluntarily by individuals.

In Great Britain the Empire Rheumatism Council was formed some four years ago and immediately the interest of medical men, industrialists and welfare workers. Great strides have been made in research work on the cause and prevention of the various forms of the disease.

The Empire Rheumatism Council has secured the active co-operation of the central authorities, for it has been found that in London, England, absence from school due to rheumatic diseases amounted to 27 per cent. At the same time it was found that absenteeism from tuberculosis (the next highest) was 6.8 per cent.

It was also discovered that in many instances children who suffered from rheumatism, in later life suffered from heart conditions as a result of this early rheumatic disease.

In London today there is a systematic check-up of all schools and treatment along with preventative care is given as part of the national health service to combat this disease.

The British people, particularly the industrialists, realize the enormous economic loss to the nations due to the crippling results of rheumatic trouble.

In the U.S. the drive to stem the ravages of arthritis has taken practical form and the National Arthritis Research Foundation has been set up with President Truman honorary chairman.

As the initial effort, the Foundation is out to raise the sum of two and a half million dollars for research work and to establish a clinic at Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas.

The chairman of this campaign committee, Louis Kranitz, St. Louis, Mo., stated that the Foundation was formed as a national and independent centre for studying the causes and treatment of rheumatic diseases.

In Canada little public effort has been made on the prevention of arthritis and other rheumatic diseases. The Canadian Rheumatic Disease Association was formed in 1936 and was active until the war began but since then, like every other organization, has found it impossible to do very much. Recently, in Canada, interest has been aroused, and the association is planning a campaign for funds either by government grant or through private subscription, to further the research work to the cause and prevention of arthritis.

It is estimated there are 600,000 cases of chronic rheumatism in Canada and no beds available for them. At the present time there are no funds available for research and no government money set aside for treatment and diagnosis. Arthritis and chronic rheumatism are not even mentioned in the draft of the proposed new Federal Health Bill.

A meeting of the Canadian Rheumatic Disease Association will be held in Banff this June while the Canadian Medical Association convention is in session and medical men interested in the eradication of this scourge have been invited to visit the Mineral Springs Hospital and the arthritis patients.

TOURISTS GET RATION CARDS

Tourists who visit Canada for seven days or longer will be able to obtain temporary ration cards on application to a local ration board, or from any special office set up for distribution of these cards at border points. No temporary ration cards will be issued for a period of more than one month. Prices Board officials note.

Tourists stopping at summer hotels or boarding houses will not need temporary ration cards, no matter how long their visit. Canadian ration book holders still are required to surrender houses if their stay is for two weeks or longer.

Mrs. Rich noticed that her charwomen always took home their chicken bones and empty grapefruit skins. This puzzled her. At last her curiosity overcame her and she asked: "What do you do with these things?" "Oh," replied the woman, "I hope you don't mind, but they make my dust bin look so 'posh'!"

WHO DOES YOUR PRINTING ?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them.

Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

Thomas Harris, 77, of Shaunavon Sask. wonders if anyone can beat this record. His grandfather was married twice, his father twice, his mother twice, his stepfather three times, his aunt twice, his brother twice.

And what's more, he's been married twice himself and his second wife twice, her father, twice, her first husband, twice and her son twice.

R.A.F. DELIVER MAIL BY RADAR

Radar aids used on airborne operations have helped the R.A.F. deliver twenty-one million newspapers and nearly fifteen hundred tons of mail and other freight to British forces in Europe in the last six months. In fog or bad visibility bundles of newspapers or mail have been dropped "blind" with perfect accuracy by radar apparatus.

HIGHER PRICES COMING?

The Financial Post says that the federal government will shortly be faced with a retreat from the present level of ceiling prices and there will be a boost in ceiling prices followed by advances in consumer durable goods. Higher ceilings for farm implements are anticipated.

Farm people, who have submitted to comparatively low ceiling prices for farm products during the war, will expect increases in prices of the products and services they must buy.

The keeper of the local inn, which had a reputation for its very strong brew, was awakened at midnight by a loud knocking on the front door. Putting his head out the window, he shouted:

"Go away! You can't have anything to drink at this hour."

"Who wants anything to drink?" was the response. "I left here at closing time without my crutches."

LARGE SUM TO BE SPENT IN PROVINCE FOR IRRIGATION

The federal government has mapped out a $10,000,000 water conservation program for the Milk River. Agriculture Minister J.G. Gardiner said at Regina recently, and further suggestions or pressure from provincial governments or other group organizations were unnecessary.

Addressing a meeting of the Board of Trade and the South Saskatchewan River Development Association, Mr. Gardiner said an item of $10,000,000 was included in the estimates before parliament for use in preliminary surveys and engineering works. He believes this item would be approved.

Three of the four main projects involved in the plan—the Milk River, Medicine Hat and Red Deer developments. The fourth was the South Saskatchewan River project in Saskatchewan.

There were three possible sites for the dam on the South Saskatchewan between Saskatoon and the Elbow and some time this summer decision would be made. Contracts would be let and work started immediately.

He warned, however, that unless water which already was stored, or might in future be stored, in dams across the prairies were utilized, there might be difficulties encountered in getting large water conservation projects completed.

EAT LESS FOOD—HAUL MORE GRAIN

(By H. G. L. Strange)

Mr. Hoover, former President of the United States, and now in charge of all relief food for Europe and Asia, has just issued his first report from the spot in Europe. It is a sad document. 150,000,000 European people alone, Mr. Hoover tells us, have insufficient food to support life, even on a minimum standard. Millions of old people and little children will die before the new crop is harvested unless much more food can arrive in the next two months. Many are doomed to die in spite of anything that can be done.

Mr. Hoover pleads for all people to save bread and food on their tables, and for farmers everywhere to ship every single bushel of wheat, oats and barley to the market that they can possibly spare from their farms. Even a single wagonload of grain will save lives that otherwise would be lost. Mr. Hoover urges all of us, country and city people alike, to grow large vegetable gardens so as to cut down our own consumption of bread and meats, all so that more food may be available for the starving people of Europe.

All this concerns Europe alone, but the plight of untold millions in Asia is even worse. So let us all try to do our full share, however small it may be, for even a little extra food may save a valuable life.

vice, or until your pay is high enough for you to better the amounts received jointly from your employer and D.V.A. These payments are deducted from your re-establishment credit, but you will know that over an extended period of time the assistance from the Government will be much in excess of the credit.

HOW LONG WILL THE TRAINING PERIOD BE?

This depends upon the type of job in which the veteran is being trained. As long as satisfactory progress is being maintained, the training will continue up to the period agreed upon in the contract.

ASSISTANCE BY THE DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS

The employer is able to arrange an agreement with Canadian Vocational Training to determine the worth of a veteran while in training. The amount of wage agreed upon is supplemented up to four-fifths of the rate that the veteran will earn upon completion of training as a qualified man. Maximum of $100 for a single person or $120 for a man and wife, plus an allowance for each child, is established.

WHAT KINDS OF JOBS DOES IT INCLUDE?

Any jobs that require a period of time to learn, providing it is evident that the training is systematic. In the Calgary District, there are many types such as Printing, Bookbinding, Dressmaking, General Accounting, Butchering, Electrical Work, Milling, Meat Packing, Mechanics, General Insurance, Salesmanship, Vulcanizing, Welding, Watchmaking, and many others. Further information can be obtained by contacting Mr. J.B. Clark, Telephone M3021 Local 13, 217-7th Ave. W., Calgary.

HOW IS IT SUPERVISED?

Canadian Vocational Training (CVT) arranges an outline of the terms. A contract is drawn up with the Employer. Employer pays D.V.A. as to the amounts to be paid over the training period. Regular reports are furnished by the Employer-Trainee as to progress attitude and efficiency. If the Employer or Employee thinks a wrong choice has been made of training, arrangements can be completed for transfer to some other job, or training can cease. Frequent visits are made by C.V.T. field men to see that the training is progressing smoothly for all concerned. These men are experts in their job and are always pleased to assist.

TOO MANY LOST RATION BOOKS

About 50 ration books are lost in stores every week, and returned by the stores to ration offices, officials of the ration administration state in advising ration book holders to look after their property.

Already there are 200 unclaimed ration books in the Edmonton ration office, some with addresses from as far off as Victoria, it was stated.

Lost ration books should be claimed from ration offices or local offices in the centre in which the book disappeared. They are not returned by mail because in some instances the ration book holder may have made application for a new book. It was pointed out.

DAIRY SUBSIDIES EXTENDED ONE YEAR

Dairy subsidies, which were scheduled to expire at midnight Tuesday, have been extended for one year by order-in-council. Agriculture Minister Gardiner announced Tuesday in the Commons. He said there was no change in the rate of the subsidies.

Mr. Gardiner, in replying to a question from John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said the subsidies dealt with milk, butter, cheese, production, butterfat used in butter production and

What is Training On-The-Job?

A method of training by which a veteran is trained while he is working on the job. The advantages in modern industry for which no satisfactory training can be given in any pre-employment vocational school. He is an employee of an Employer-Trainee and works under the same conditions as any other employee, except that his income may be increased by the assistance of the Department of Veterans Affairs, in order to provide approximately four-fifths of what he will earn when fully trained. On completion of training, it is so that he will continue to be employed gainfully by the Employer-Trainee.

YOUR PART IN IT

THE EMPLOYER
You want an experienced man in your business. Why not train one who has reached his maturity under conditions far more exacting than the average youth just out of school? The veterans have been carefully selected by a group of qualified Occupational Counsellors. He has not the financial worries that usually affect the young man, because he receives financial assistance beyond your normal pay for learners. You then have on the job and develop him as a conscientious and reliable employee. You are moreover, taking an active part in the successful rehabilitation of veterans.

THE EMPLOYEE

You want a job with some security. Learn it under a proper system of training with an employer who will teach you the business thoroughly. The financial assistance offered by the Government to supplement what the employer pays you, will provide a comfortable living during training. This help will be extended up to your period of ser-

We thought the war was over, but when we try to use the phone or get into the creamery between 12 and one o'clock, we decide it's our mistake.

"What's Kooking?"
What seeding is practically completed in this district. Oats and barley are also well under way and last but not least, the "spud planting" is getting an unusual amount of early attention.
Mrs. Mary is claiming a record for her Hampshire fowls. Not another big egg of a very small egg this time, but just an ordinary honest-to-goodness egg. Its like this: On April the 9th a Hampshire hen (see pullet) hatched out a brood of chicks. This hen and her brood have been confined to a coop away from all other fowl. On April 30th the hen laid an egg and has continued to do this daily. Beat that? The hen says, "Be it Hampshire!" "Be it a —?" Any old country man from Hampshire, England will fill in the blank, upon request.

Operation Of Ducks Unlimited Financed During Past Decade By Contributions From The U.S.

MORE than $1,000,000 has been received from the United States and expended in Canada in improving 1,200,000 acres of waterfowl breeding area by Ducks Unlimited Inc., Judge W. G. Ross, Mooseman, said when he spoke at the annual meeting of the organization. Operations of Ducks Unlimited (Canada) during the past decade had been financed by contributions from the Americans interested in preventing waterfowl from becoming extinct.

Judge Ross suggested the time had come when interested Canadians should start putting up a share of the money to assist the organization in its work. He declared that in the 60-year period, 1875 to 1935 approximately 93 per cent. of all waterfowl in this country had disappeared and the remainder appeared headed for extinction. Cause of the destruction was in part ruthless shooting, but the major cause was drought. The dry years took 20 to 25 per cent. of the total hatch before the young could fly to water. Crows and magpies took another 15 to 20 per cent. Spring stubble and marsh fires destroyed 10 per cent. and disease and floods killed off another 20 per cent.

The percentages were much higher in the drought period 1929 to 1938. Seventy per cent. of all migratory waterfowl bred and nest on the Canadian prairies and N.W.T. and with that in mind, the United States decided to take action to save the waterfowl from complete extinction. In 1937 Ducks Unlimited was created in the United States. Its objective was $2,000,000 was designed to improve 3,000,000 acres of prairie duck breeding areas by creation of additional wetlands in the water surface, destruction of predators and generally to lessen the checks that were destroying waterfowl. A total of $1,000,000 had been sent to Canada by the American duck hunters.

An organization was set up in Canada to invest the money where it produced dividends only in more ducks and more waterfowl, said Judge Ross.

"Our beginning has been modest. We have achieved so far 40 per cent. of our objective and will carry on with the job until it is finished. When I say we have improved 1,200,000 acres of land, I do not mean that we have created that much permanent water surface. Ducks do not nest in water. They do nest anywhere from a few yards to three miles away from water," he said.

Object of Ducks Unlimited, he said, was to make sure that no matter what the rainfall or snowfall happened to be a duck could hatch three to four miles away from water and still reach water when her young were hatched.

In the meantime the total waterfowl population has increased from 27,000,000 to 37,000,000 in 1935. 140,000,000 or 150,000,000 in 1945. Ducks Unlimited did not claim all the credit for that increase. Nature had provided increased precipitation. Low bag limits for the hunter helped and P.E.R.A. projects had assisted materially.

Ducks Unlimited had also been helped through the public consciousness being aroused as to the necessity for restoration and conservation. Help had also come from the public in destroying 3,000,000 crows and magpies.

"We in Ducks Unlimited (Canada) could complete our task sooner. We could have more ducks and upland birds as well, if we had $600,000 a year to spend in our work," said Judge Ross, appealing to Canadians to help finance the operations of the organization.

Five-Year-Old Girl Draws Juniors' Names For Court

Five-year-old Ann McEachern of Columbia, South Carolina, is a veteran court attaché despite her tender years.

For two years, she has had the job of drawing juniors' names when juniors are selected in the circuit courts for Richmond County.

She gets $2 a day when court is in session. When not actually busy with her duties, Ann just sits quietly and watches proceedings with much curiosity.

Ann got her job when her predecessor reached the mature age of six and had to go to school.

Children are picked for the job because they live in places that it must be given to a person who cannot read.

NEED NOT WORRY

The head of a house was reading a newspaper article very carefully. When he had come to the one that he remarked to his wife: "Do you know, dear, I don't see anything in what this article says."

"That the cleverness of the father often proves a stumbling-block to the son,"

His wife heaved a sigh of relief. "Well, thank goodness," she said, "my baby won't have anything to fall over."

For Next War

Canada Will Not Be Found In A State Of Unpreparedness

In some ways our neighbors to the South are more informed of Canadian developments than the average reader in Canada. That scientific and factual reports of events, the Alexander Hamilton Institute, in its monthly survey of Canada, has an interesting item how we are to be prepared for the next war. This country is not to be caught. The item should make interesting reading abroad.

This survey by such a high authority states that Canada has no intention of being caught in the state of unpreparedness in which she was found in 1939. A program and blueprint in the form of a new company has been formulated to help maintain peace and industrial readiness against any future emergency.

The new company, under the name of Arsenal, Ltd., headed by the arms expert Col. Malcolm P. Jolly, will have two functions: Planning for rapid conversion to war purposes of plants manufacturing clothing, automobiles, railway equipment, ships, aircraft and other such items; production of war equipment such as shells, explosives, rifles, and other small arms of special use for military purposes only.

It is expected that close contact will be kept with other manufacturers of machine tools and dies with a view to quickly co-ordinating production capacity. As an additional step, a ready supply of machine tools and dies will be made available for quick shipment to designated plants.

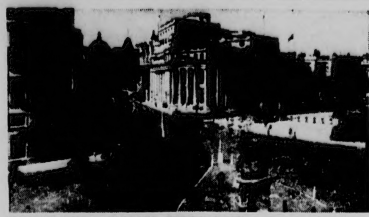

Eventually, Arsenal, Ltd., will become part of the Department of National Defense. However, the plan now is to put Canada's postwar preparedness on a business basis. This will mean the selection of tools and equipment from World War II for the Department of National Defense, making plans for the disposition of scrap tools and equipment.

Canada, of necessity, had to fill the role of an arsenal for democracy during the war. The plan is to expand that service in case of a future emergency. St. Catharines Standard.

A LONG CHANCE

LOS ANGELES.—The chances of an atomic bomb explosion setting off a world-raising chain reaction might be termed infinitesimal, if Dr. Harold C. Urey's estimate is correct. The University of Chicago physicist and Nobel prize winner, who helped create the atomic bomb, puts the chances at one in 100 septillion. That's a 1 followed by 26 zeros. Written out, it looks like this: 100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

The pyramids of Egypt and the Great Wall of China were said to have been built during periods of depression to relieve unemployment.

BRONZE KING CHARLES RIDES AGAIN. The first London statue to return from evacuation, that of King Charles the First, has arrived at the works ministry yard in St. James' Park. Since 1941, it has been in Bedfordshire. Charles and his bronze horse—London's oldest equestrian statue—will return to their plinth in Trafalgar Square, where they have marked the site of the old Eleanor Cross, the original Charing Cross, since 1675.

Wheat Document

Now Being Issued Tells Of Special Tax Arrangement

Western farmers will soon become familiar with a new wheat document, the Emergency Wheat Receipt, which is being issued in connection with the special income tax concession to prairie farmers who deliver wheat between April 1 and June 30, 1946. The new tax arrangement is designed to encourage the immediate delivery of wheat so that it will be available for overseas shipment to relieve the present emergency.

The following is a summary of the special income tax arrangement now in effect until June 30, 1946, and being administered by the Canadian Wheat Board.

(1) Producers delivering wheat between April 1, 1946 and June 30, 1946 may market wheat in the usual manner or take advantage of the special income tax arrangement.

(2) Producers taking advantage of the special income tax arrangement can do so only in wheat marketed between April 1, 1946 and June 30, 1946.

(3) Producers choosing to take advantage of the special income tax arrangement and delivering and selling wheat between April 1, 1946 and June 30, 1946, will receive:

(a) A 1945-46 participation certificate entitling them to share in any further distribution from the 1945-46 board account.

(b) An emergency wheat receipt equivalent to the present fixed, initial price of $1.25 per bushel basis in store at London, two older women hustled up, appearing to be taken instead.

(4) The emergency wheat receipt is actually the equivalent of a sale but the cash settlement is deferred. Upon acceptance of the emergency wheat receipt, the producer may elect to take payment at any time up to and including Dec. 31, 1948. The date of accepting payment will determine the year in which the payment is applied for income tax purposes.

(5) In the case of deliveries made on or after April 1, 1946 and up to date of business June 30, 1946, a producer may elect to take either the total settlement in cash or partly in cash, and the balance under the emergency wheat receipt plan.

(6) If at any time prior to Dec. 31, 1948, a producer desires to take settlement for part of the emergency wheat receipts which he holds, The Canadian Wheat Board will, upon request and surrender of the emergency wheat receipt, make payment for the desired amount and issue a new emergency wheat receipt for the balance.

Canada's Beaver

Annual Catch Has Declined Sharply In Last Twenty Years

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the recorded catch of beaver in Canada 20 years ago was nearly 175,000, but in subsequent years the annual take declined, falling away sharply to 30,000 in 1934. The war years witnessed a rise in the demand for fur, and the catch of beaver rose from 50,000 skins in 1941 to 131,000 in 1944. The average value per pelt has varied widely over the years. In 1924 it was $15, falling to $8 in 1931; in 1941 it rose to $25, and by the close of the 1944 season it had reached $37.

In Plain Words

Bank Was Explicit But Customer Endlessly Did Not Understand

At a local bank, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal, a bookkeeper telephoned a customer to tell him that the deposit slip she had mailed in with her deposit had an error in addition. After a lengthy discussion, during which the woman seemed to understand what the employee was trying to explain, she asked: "Well, just what is it you want me to do?"

"Lady," he began, "all we want to do is change your slip." With that he heard an angry click as she hung up the receiver.

WHAT THEY DESERVED

The younger neighbor driver brought for Finchley stopped to give a lift to two young women. Central London, two older women hustled up, appearing to be taken instead.

"We simply must get to Finchley quickly," they pleaded.

The younger women stood back; the others took their places.

As the driver was passing Paddington Station one of his passengers called: "You can put us down here."

"But you wanted Finchley," reminded the driver.

"Oh, no, we have to get off here," they replied.

"You're going to Finchley," the driver said grimly. And they went to Finchley.

Among other things on its gastronomy agenda, the Wisconsin Restaurant Association in convention at Milwaukee, moved to boost the abounding Wisconsin pea. Five hundred delegates adopted a resolution which was sent to President Truman. It asked that Nov. 15 be named as National Soup Day, and that split pea soup be made the national soup.

Newest Scientific Gadgets Are To Be Used By British In Fall Whaling Expedition

THE zero hour strikes for the whales of the Antarctic this fall when a British expedition armed to the teeth with new scientific gadgets, including planes and radar, sets out to protect the tattered fat rations of the homeland. Whales have been hunted for more than a thousand years at sea, but this new expedition will mark the first time the giant mammals will not even have the slim chance now remaining to them of escaping capture by staying comfortably out of sight of the parent whaling ships.

National Historic Park

Fort Prince Of Wales Most Northerly Fortress In Canada

Shades of the old garrison of Fort Prince of Wales near Churchill, Manitoba, must have been destroyed themselves recently when a fleet of iron-clad snowmobiles thundered in across the peninsula and came to a halt before the massive stone walls of this old fortress. Where only the ghosts of a by-gone century have held silent and lonely vigil since Samuel Hearne and his small garrison hoisted a white flag of surrender, now was mounted a new guard—young men from Exercise Muskox. The guard stood rigidly at attention and presented arms as several representatives of foreign countries filed past into the fort. Those among them who know the history of Fort Prince of Wales must, in fancy, have looked up towards the battlements expecting to see a white tattered flag, the signal again of the surrender of this once great northern fortress.

It is believed that this is the first time a guard has been mounted on the Fort Prince of Wales since the French Admiral, La Perouse, captured it without firing a shot, in 1782. As the distinguished visitors entered the fort an improvised 24-pounder cannon was fired in salute by the present Hudson Bay Factor at Churchill, saluting the northern stillness for miles around and bringing back to life and memory one of Canada's most ancient and storied strongholds. In contrast with La Perouse's invading sailors, most of whom were wretchedly clad, weak, barefooted and half starved, after a long sea voyage, men from Exercise Muskox scrambled out of modern snowmobiles, eager, fit and well equipped. In a peaceful and sight-seeing mood.

Fort Prince of Wales was almost forgotten until 1941 it became a National Historic Park. Previously it had been restored and is much as La Perouse left it 164 years ago. Although he and his men spent two days trying to capture it, they succeeded in displacing some of the upper layers of its massive stones and dismantling the guns. Nevertheless, the capture enabled the French fleet to replenish their stores and sail south to capture York Factory with much the same ease.

Fort Prince of Wales serves no military purpose now, but is dedicated to the people of Canada for their historical education and enjoyment. Few people had visited it before the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway to Churchill. With an anticipated expansion of northern travel in the years immediately ahead, it is expected that Canada's most northerly fortress will be visited annually by increasing numbers of tourists.

Racial Prejudice

Virgin Islands Has Simple Way To Deal With Matter

An effective method of combatting racial prejudice in hotels and other public places has been developed in the Virgin Islands of St. Thomas and St. Croix. In both islands, an anti-segregation statute has been passed under which a business place automatically loses its license if the person discriminated against takes his case to court and wins. This has the virtue of simplicity combined with protection for the public places concerned. They cannot be victimized by frivolous charges nor, on the other hand, can they get away with some of the outrageous conduct permitted in this country and the United States. Fear of losing a license would make hotel managers far more tolerant of color and creed—Windsor Free Press.

A GOOD TARGET

A common holiday has been told he would find splendid sport on the lower reaches of the creek and along the lagoons bordering the river. Gun in hand, he wandered for miles without getting a shot, and was crossing a bridge on the way back to the hotel in the late afternoon when he met a small freckled boy.

"Is there anything to shoot about here?" he asked.

The boy smiled thoughtfully and shook his head. Then his face brightened up.

"Here's the schoolmaster coming across the bridge now," he explained.

Stitchery Magic

A touch of stitchery and some magic are the use of rocket-propelled harpoons from planes which would carry a lethal charge, enabling the plane to kill a whale and then land in position of the kill to trawlers.

The expedition plans to be gone five months, heading from England to Capetown and then to Antarctica.
